When	Sun, 15. November 2026, 20:30 h
Category	Live Music in Rotterdam

Description

Italian composer and multi-instrumentalist Bruno Bavota comes to Lab Grounds with intimate music shaped by neo-classical piano, chamber folk, ambient textures and experimental electronics.

Bavota is known for turning personal thoughts and emotions into reflective instrumental pieces. Although his early work drew comparisons with fellow Italian composer Ludovico Einaudi, he has continued to develop a more experimental approach, disrupting traditional melodies with effects pedals, processors and live manipulation.

His latest album, Night Music, released in October 2026, brings together deeply personal solo piano compositions inspired by the stillness and melancholy of the night.
