

Pink Floyd Project: The Wall - The Final Cut

Event - Pink Floyd Project: The Wall - The Final Cut

When	Fri, 22. October 2027, 20:00 h - 23:00 h
Category	Live Music in Rotterdam

Description

Pink Floyd Project returns to Rotterdam Ahoy with its most theatrical production yet, bringing The Wall – The Final Cut back to RTM Stage after the previous Rotterdam performance sold out.

The show places the music of Pink Floyd albums The Wall and The Final Cut at its centre, while also drawing on other classics from the band's catalogue. Rather than approaching the material as a straightforward tribute concert, the production builds a large-scale visual story around themes including power, abuse of power, war, PTSD and social isolation.

A 50-member children's choir joins the musicians, alongside marching performers carrying flags and protest signs. The staging reinforces the underlying idea of breaking down walls and searching for connection in times of division.

The 2027 Rotterdam performance was added after the sold-out world premiere at the same venue in September 2026. Pink Floyd Project has also taken earlier versions of the production abroad, including sold-out performances at the State Opera in the Czech Republic.
