Description

German hard rock legends Scorpions return to Rotterdam Ahoy on Sunday 20 June 2027 with their Love, Peace & Rock 'n' Roll Tour. Following more than six decades of international success, the band brings its unmistakable guitar sound and an extensive catalogue of rock anthems to Rotterdam for an evening celebrating one of the most influential names in European rock music.

Founded in Hanover in 1965 by guitarist Rudolf Schenker, Scorpions have sold more than 120 million albums worldwide and performed on every continent. The band helped define the sound of hard rock during the 1970s and 1980s, combining powerful guitar riffs with melodic songwriting and memorable ballads.

Their biggest hits include Rock You Like a Hurricane, Still Loving You, Send Me an Angel and Wind of Change. The latter became an international anthem associated with the political changes sweeping Europe around the end of the Cold War.

Six decades of rock music

Scorpions have built a remarkable international career, from performing at the first Rock in Rio festival in 1985 to selling out major arenas across the world. Their catalogue includes more than two dozen studio and live albums, alongside numerous gold and platinum records.

Following their successful 60th Anniversary: Coming Home tour, the band are embarking on another international series of concerts in 2027. The Love, Peace & Rock 'n' Roll Tour celebrates the music that has connected generations of fans, bringing together hard rock classics, soaring guitar solos and some of the genre's most recognisable power ballads.
