When	Thu, 18. March 2027, 20:30 h
Category	Live Music in Rotterdam

Description

Norwegian trumpeter and composer Mathias Eick returns to LantarenVenster in Rotterdam on Thursday 18 March 2027 for an intimate evening of contemporary jazz. Performing with his quartet, Eick presents an exclusive preview of music from his forthcoming seventh album, expected in autumn 2027 through ECM Records.

Mathias Eick has established himself as one of the most distinctive voices in European jazz, recognised for his warm trumpet sound, lyrical compositions and expressive improvisations. His music combines Scandinavian jazz traditions with subtle influences from folk, classical music and contemporary jazz, creating atmospheric performances that balance melody with rhythmic energy.

In 2007, Eick received the International Jazz Talent award in New York, helping launch an international career that has included collaborations with celebrated musicians such as Chick Corea, Pat Metheny and Manu Katché. He has also performed with the Trondheim Jazz Orchestra and Norwegian experimental group Jaga Jazzist.

New music following Lullaby

Released in February 2025, Eick's album Lullaby explored themes of childhood, compassion and human vulnerability. Inspired partly by the experiences of people affected by conflict in the Middle East, the record brought together gentle melodies, spacious arrangements and moments of spontaneous improvisation.

His upcoming album continues this musical exploration, with new compositions that build on the expressive qualities of Lullaby. The Rotterdam concert offers audiences an opportunity to hear some of this material before its official release.

The quartet

Eick is joined by three accomplished musicians from the European jazz scene:

- Mathias Eick: trumpet
- Kristjan Randalu: piano
- Trygve Fiske: double bass
- Markku Ounaskari: drums

Together, the quartet create music built around collective improvisation and a strong sense of musical connection. Expect atmospheric trumpet melodies, expressive piano passages and a responsive rhythm section that moves between quiet reflection and energetic interplay.
