Description

Canadian pianist Jeremy Ledbetter brings his explosive blend of jazz, Latin and Caribbean rhythms to LantarenVenster in Rotterdam on Friday 14 May 2027. Joined by bassist Rich Brown and drummer Larnell Lewis, the award-winning Jeremy Ledbetter Trio combine dazzling musicianship, infectious grooves and adventurous improvisation into an energetic live performance.

Classically trained before turning his attention to jazz, Jeremy Ledbetter spent more than a decade travelling and performing throughout Latin America and the Caribbean. These experiences shaped his distinctive musical identity, combining the technical sophistication of contemporary jazz with the rhythmic traditions of salsa, calypso, soca and Brazilian music.

During his time in Trinidad and Tobago, Ledbetter became musical director for calypso legend David Rudder. He also performed with celebrated Brazilian musician Hermeto Pascoal and collaborated with numerous artists across the Latin and Caribbean music scenes.

JUNO Award-winning jazz

The trio's second album, Gravity, received a JUNO Award for Jazz Album of the Year, Canada's equivalent of the Grammy Awards. The record has attracted more than a million streams worldwide, demonstrating the group's ability to bring its adventurous musical approach to a broad audience.

Ledbetter's compositions move between complex jazz harmonies, driving Latin rhythms and moments of melodic reflection. His virtuosic piano playing has drawn comparisons to Chick Corea, Hiromi and Monty Alexander, while his fellow musicians bring their own distinctive musical backgrounds to the trio.

Three exceptional musicians

On bass is Rich Brown, known for his work with Steve Coleman's Five Elements and his contributions to contemporary jazz and fusion. Drummer Larnell Lewis, internationally recognised through his work with Snarky Puppy, adds extraordinary rhythmic precision and energy.

Together, the three musicians create a powerful musical dialogue, combining intricate arrangements with spontaneous improvisation. Their performances frequently shift between sophisticated jazz passages and irresistible grooves inspired by the Caribbean and Latin America.
